

PET VALU ANNOUNCES INCLUSION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA CLASS ACTION LAWSUIT AND PROVIDES UPDATE WITH RESPECT TO SASKATCHEWAN CLASS ACTION

Markham, Ontario, August 29, 2007. Pet Valu, Inc. and Pet Valu Canada Inc. (the “Pet Valu Companies”) have been advised that that they have been added as defendants, along with certain other pet food retailers, in a potential class proceeding brought in the Supreme Court of British Columbia (“BC Action”). The BC Action involves allegations concerning the manufacture and sale of pet food products alleged to contain tainted ingredients.

The Pet Valu Companies are in the process of determining whether they have been properly joined as defendants in the BC Action, given that they do not carry on business in British Columbia. They intend to vigorously defend themselves in this matter in any event.

On July 30, 2007, the Pet Valu Companies announced that a motion was being pursued in the Court of Queen’s Bench in the Province of Saskatchewan to include the Pet Valu Companies among other defendants in a class action lawsuit in that province involving similar allegations (the “Saskatchewan Action”). That motion has been allowed but without prejudice to the right of the Pet Valu Companies to seek a stay of the Saskatchewan Action on jurisdictional grounds.

The Pet Valu group of companies are specialty retailers of pet food and pet-related supplies operating company-owned and franchised locations in Canada and the U.S. The TSX stock symbol for Pet Valu Canada Inc., the Pet Valu group’s TSX-listed company, is PVC.
